

We are the Armstrong Regional Cooperative and have been in business since 1922. Our website www.armstrong.coop will give you some idea of who we are and how we look.

Recently we purchased a liquor store and local rules stipulate that we cannot say co-op in the name, so we are using ARC Liquor on the front of our liquor store.

We want the signage to look very similar to our existing brand and to that end we will use Pantone 200C for our red and Bliss Bold font for the letters.

However, we would like a professional looking graphic to put in the place of the cartoon shooting star in the examples below.

The first example would be if we use a backlit sign and the background will be Pantone 200C with all white letters and graphic. The single letter/symbol signs of the next 2 versions will be pantone red letters and symbols.

For Clarity, we are looking for a professional looking graphic to replace the shotting stars in the examples.

Or like this,

Or this,

