Easy Steps for Roof Insurance Claim

✓ Severe wind and hail can cause major damage to your shingles. Spot it. Hail damage removes some of the granules from your shingles and speeds up the aging of your shingles.

✓ Look for these three signs

- 1 An asphalt shingle hit by hail will show a bruise - a dark spot where the granules have been knocked off, exposing the asphalt. If it's a brand new hit, the spot will be shiny by freshly exposed asphalt.
- 2 Hail may also dent the metal components - flashing, valleys & gutters.
- 3 Even if you don't want to get up in your roof, you can simply check your gutters and downspouts for an unusual amount of granules - displaced from the shingles.

✓ You will probably need to replace the entire roof. Call Us and we'll thoroughly inspect and provide a complete report for your insurance company. We record the exact date the damage occurred and notify the insurance company.

✓ Insurance companies like to minimize their claims. You have the right to choose your own contractor and should take as much care in doing so as you would if the insurance company was not involved.

Chimney Flashing: A Major Cause of Roof Leaks

Chimney flashing must be properly installed to prevent expensive leaks. When it is installed the right way, it creates a counteracting system, where everything overlaps in the right direction to create positive water flow that uses gravity to draw water down and away.
