*The Bolda story
dates back to the American Prohibition.*

*My grandfather Vittorio left Italy to work in Boulder Hill, Chicago. In his spare time, he would use
scrap metal to illegally make stills for grappa and moonshine.*

*Vittorio sent money back to his family in his hometown of Calvene
Italy – where Boulder
Hill was quickly
Italianised to Bolda, which became the
family's nickname.*

*Today, I use
traditional techniques
together with modern,
computerised distilling equipment to make
premium liqueurs
in honour of my grandfather.*
