Direct Primary Care

The direct primary care (DPC) model gives patients a meaningful alternative to the insurance driven medical community by charging patients a monthly fee that covers all primary care services including clinical, wellness consultative services, care coordination and comprehensive care management. Labs are provided at a significantly reduced price. Because some services are not covered by the monthly fee, DPC practices often suggest that patients acquire a high-deductible wraparound policy to cover emergencies and specialist care.
