

THE ADVENTURES OF EL PAPI CHARACTERS

El Papi

A middle-aged family man (of Latin descent) with an “alluded to” background (but not explicitly mentioned) as a drug lord. He has a bad ass persona, but at times grumpy, funny, humble and very likable. He is surrounded by a cast of characters that are part of his current business, which is a coffee shop (possible chain of coffee shops) known as “Papi’s Coffee.”

The Adventures of El Papi is a comedy and will be an animated series with potential for many seasons. The episodes are based on his personal life and business dealings currently with his coffee shop, his family, friends and local authorities. Often included in the episodes are flashbacks to his “prime years” in which he was feared and respected by many in his homeland, which serves as a great juxtaposition to his current family life.
