

Inspiration...

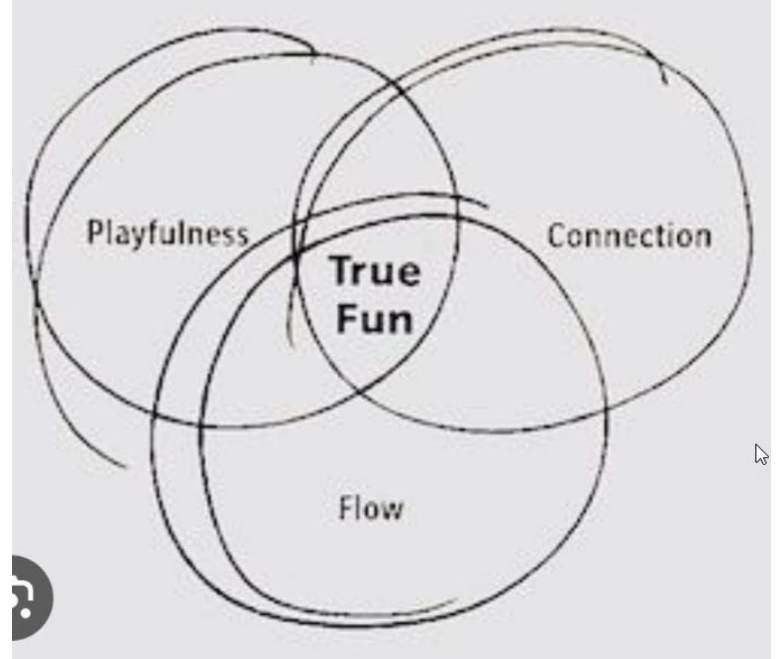

- True Fun has three elements to create it:
  - Playfulness
  - Connection
  - Flow

Where these are ALL present, True Fun can be had

You can have some without the other, but True Fun requires all 3

*Key is to preserve that 3 elements needed for ultimate goal of True Fun

This tattoo to me will serve as a reminder of what will create True Fun

Placement

- Will be on lower leg above ankle bone
- Would prefer it not to wrap

Style:

- Basic black symbol (vs. elaborate picture) is preferred
- See other tattoos to get an idea of the style I prefer

Concerns:

- Too much text to include as-is on tattoo space (at inner leg/ankle area)
- Text will be too small and blur over time if all included
- Original as-is image would be large and would need to wrap around lower leg

Compromises:

- I'm ok with having symbols (rather than text for the True Fun elements), as long as they trigger the idea of what the element is (ex. waves can symbolize flow)
- Does not have to be a circle Venn diagram, as long as the connections are clear

Struggles:

- I'm not sure there is a good symbol to represent True Fun. That really may need to be text that is spelled out somehow, somewhere
- True Fun could be alongside a triangle, over it or under... depends on design. If it's clear that it's describing or defining True Fun, I'm open to ideas
- Space constraint seems to be one of the biggest challenges. How to represent this idea in the allotted space?

Conceptual symbols for...

- Playfulness
- or
- True Fun (if True Fun cannot be spelled out)
- Open to ideas

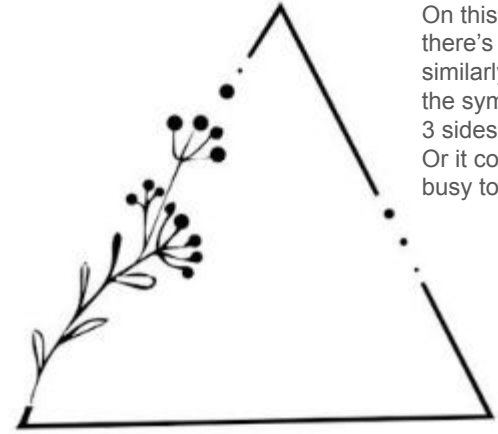

Conceptual symbols for...

- Flow

Conceptual symbols for...

- Connection
- Need other ideas for symbols for "Connection"
- Open to ideas

On this idea, maybe there's a way to similarly incorporate the symbols into the 3 sides of triangle? Or it could be too busy to do that.

Conceptual symbols for overall design

- Design inspiration
- Alternatives to circle Venn diagram (circle Venn is too big for tattoo spot)
- Open to ideas
- Space is a big constraint
