WHAT ARE NDIS AND HCP?

The National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) is an initiative of the Australian Government that's managed by the National Disability Insurance Agency (NDIA). Its main goal is to provide lifelong support to individuals with disabilities and enable them to access the necessary services to lead a fulfilling and independent life.

On the other hand, Home Care Packages (HCP) provide a cost-effective and flexible way for older Australians to access the care and support they need to remain living in their own homes. These packages are designed to cater to the specific needs of individuals who require more complex care than what is provided by the Commonwealth Home Support Programme. These packages are funded by the Australian government and are administered by approved home care providers.
