

Our current logo (we like it but don't love it)

A recent trailwork day sign that we like:

Here are some random designs from the web to give you an idea of the direction we lean design-wise:

This one is our favorite by quite a bit. Would be awesome to have something with a topo of a prominent spot in Southern Oregon like Mt. Ashland where many of our best trails originate, or the Ashland Watershed. Even more simple then this one would be good. (Ideally 1 or 2 colors)

Retro is cool though perhaps difficult to get the feel with single color that we probably need for economy:

Clean, simple:

Line drawing is cool:

And a couple that don't speak to us:

Don't Love. Way too busy:

Also, don't love. Equally busy:
