

Here are two designs that I do not like, followed by designs that I like more.

I DO NOT LIKE these two logos ...

Please do not submit designs like these two.

The two logo above do not demonstrate the creativity or visual appeal I am looking for. I do not want to see eight identical pillars, either standing alone or supporting a building.

I LIKE THESE MORE. The logos below are more appealing to me ...

This one shows perspective as well as pillars working together.

This one suggests a pillar with eight different elements.

The slash at the bottom of this logo suggests motion.

The three designs at left are more appealing to me. Each suggests something different, but they are all visually appealing.

The design DOES NOT NEED TO USE PILLARS. I like the designs below ...

The number eight, but with eight obvious segments.

The number eight again, but with different, interwoven colors. If there were eight distinct colors it would be better.

Again, with interwoven colors, and if there were eight of them that would be ideal. I LOVE THIS!

These all play on the number '8' and do not use pillars. I like all of these, but I like the one on the right the most. It is an eight and an infinity symbol, and the colors are vibrant.

The design DOES NOT NEED TO USE THE NUMBER EIGHT ...

Both of these logos show eight different elements working together, and I like both of these.
