ABOUT

With a dynamic background in Advertising and a lifelong passion for aesthetics, I made the progression from Apple Inc. into the world of interior design in 2019. My creative background cultivated a strong sense of design principles and visual appeal - skills that translate well into the realm of interior design. By combining a strategic mindset with artistic flair, I am able to help clients navigate the design process and bring a keen eye for detail to every project.

My transition into Interior Design came about alongside our move from London to the Cotswolds. Qualifying at the renown KLC School of Design, I was inspired to create unique, functional and beautiful spaces for everyday family living. With two young children and a St Bernard dog, launching my own business also enabled a more fulfilling work-life-family balance. It's important to continue to re-invent not only ourselves but also re-imagine the spaces we live in.

At Interiors by SLY, each project is approached with the same passion and innovation that defined my work at Apple, ensuring that every space not only reflects an individual style but also sparks joy.

SERVICES

I provide an interior design service from start to finish, with immaculate care taken over every aspect of the process. Whether its a full renovation of a house or restyling an individual room, Interiors by SLY covers all the bases, from initial concept to every last flourish which brings the spaces to life.

My design schemes radiate my love of texture, travel and style, yet they always begin with your particular lifestyles, tastes and aspirations, with an emphasis on how you want the space to feel. My mission is to deliver the absolute best version of your unique vision.

Services include:

Initial consultation to understand needs and goals
Concept development with mood boards
Space planning for optimised layout and flow
2D/3D Technical Drawings
