Put a TWIST of fun into an event

- The comedy, choreography, and interactivity of Dale's show sends children into creativity fun overdrive – The silence is broken with children laughing as they sit, watching Dale's co-star's reaction as Dale inflates a balloon through their head, making for a priceless moment.
- Combining our efforts we can create an experience that makes going to an event fun.
- Photo opportunities after the show capture the moment for all involved as parents huddle around the large balloon sculptures that were created on stage during the show.

- Turn the house lights off and hear the oohs and aahs from the audience as glowing balloons twirl about the room. Black light works in most environments. It only requires the lowering of lights, but the darker you can make it, the more dramatic the effect for the audience.
