

I guess I came to the wrong place to get a postcard designed. I completed all of the fields, explained in detail what I am looking for. Paid for the work and the questions continued. I'm at the last step and now they want content. That is what I am coming here for- to help me to design a postcard for products I want to sell. I sell Insurance- I'm not a copy writer so I don't know what information you want me to give you.
