Each candle is crafted using a carefully balanced blend of 70% beeswax and 30% soy wax. This natural formulation was chosen for its clean-burning properties, slow and even melt, and dependable flame stability. Unlike conventional candles that can produce excess smoke or burn unevenly, EZ Strike candles are designed to perform predictably from the first light to the last, making them suitable for extended use when reliability matters most.

Designed with real-world use in mind, EZ Strike candles are compact, durable, and easy to store. Their size makes them ideal for emergency kits, camping gear, vehicles, and household storage without taking up unnecessary space. There's no setup or learning curve — simply light the candle and let it do its job. This simplicity is intentional, ensuring that anyone can use them effectively under stress or in low-light conditions.

EZ Strike candles are tested through hands-on use in outdoor environments and everyday situations alike. How to Use EZ Strike candles are designed to be simple and dependable. Place the candle on a stable, heat-resistant surface away from flammable materials. For best results, position it where it's protected from strong wind or drafts.

Light the wick using a match or lighter and allow the flame to establish. The natural beeswax and soy blend melts evenly, creating a steady, consistent light that lasts for hours without constant attention.

EZ Strike candles can be used during power outages, camping trips, emergency situations, or for everyday home lighting. Always keep the candle within sight while lit and ensure it's placed safely away from children and pets.

When finished, extinguish the flame carefully and allow the wax to cool before handling or storing. Once cooled, the candle is ready to be used again whenever reliable light is needed.
