

Coming Home

(music & lyrics by frozenroom)

Distant lands, foreign skies
I've roamed the earth with open eyes
Mountains high and oceans wide
Into the great divide.

No matter where I've been
There is one thing I can't pretend
It's you I long to see

I'm coming home, where I belong
To the ones who've made me strong
Every journey, every mile
I missed your smile
I'm coming home, where I belong
To the ones who've held me strong
Every journey, every mile
I missed your smile

Crowded streets and city lights
I've chased my dreams through endless nights
In the silence of the unknown
I hear echoes of my own

Through constant noise
Your love remained my steady voice
In the dark I'd hear you call

I'm coming home, where I belong
To the ones who've made me strong
Every journey, every mile
I missed your smile
I'm coming home, where I belong
To the ones who've held me strong
Every journey, every mile
I missed your smile

If I lose my way, the fire still burns every day
For the love that I find in your arms

I'm coming home, where I belong
To the ones who've made me strong
Every journey, every mile
I missed your smile
I'm coming home, where I belong
To the ones who've held me strong
Every journey, every mile
I missed your smile
