

The Weight Of The Sky

(music & lyrics by frozenroom)

I walk the ruins of all you've made
Broken dreams in a world decayed
All the stories of a brighter sun
Left us in the dark

I know you feel alone
Caught in dark seas, the chains around your feet

So sorry we made you bleed

Tell me something new, 'cause I have reached the end
Show me the truth or break me again
Tell us something we don't know, 'cause we're about to end
The weight of the sky is falling

Lungs for sale now, truth be told
A generation never meant to grow old
You saw the fire, now feel the heat
Nowhere left to hide

I know you must feel alone
Regret runs deep for us all

Tell me something new, 'cause I have reached the end
Show me the truth or break me again
Tell us something we don't know, 'cause we're about to end
The weight of the sky is falling through

Tell me something new, 'cause I have reached the end
Show me the truth or break me again
Tell us something we don't know, 'cause we're about to end
The weight of the sky is falling
