WHAT WE OFFER

Fuel Sourcing and Supply

Seamless end-to-end fuel procurement solution

Fidelis is the Central Asians/CEE leader in fuel supply and logistics, specializing in sourcing, supply, storage and distribution of land fuel and aviation fuel products and related services.

Our core strength has been matching a widespread and highly developed fuel support network backed by robust, long standing and flexible supply arrangements with Refineries in CIS countries like Russia, Azerbaijan, Uzbekistan, Kazakhstan & Turkmenistan. Our acquisition and transportation plans are elegant, robust and most importantly proven.

Combined with an integrated network of modern, high capacity terminals strategically located throughout Central Asia and the CEE region, a large state-of-the-art directly owned fleet of tanker trucks

Reliable Land Fuel Distribution Logistics

Since its founding Fidelis has grown its fleet to more than 850 fuel-tanker trucks. Unlike most other companies Fidelis owns the vehicle directly and operates them with its own highly trained driver personnel resulting in fast and direct access to information in the daily operations. Our strict preventative maintenance program allows us to compete as a leader in the industry with regards to dependability and professionalism. Fidelis' in house maintenance facilities are company owned and operated, servicing hundreds of trucks from anything from minor maintenance such as air/fuel filters to major mechanical overhauls of engines and transmissions for any older asset in need of upgrade. In addition to our own fuel trucking capabilities and reliable supply at competitive fuel prices, we provide local market expertise in our network of leading regional companies, and a full spectrum of land fuel products, fuel services and fuel logistics solutions.

State of the art Fuel Storage Facilities

Fidelis' strategic, intermediate or destination fuel storage facilities are strategically located at border crossings at the main entry/border crossing points for bulk fuel along the various supply chains corridors. Our other main storage capacities in capital cities enable us to minimise the risk of disruption and to meet our customers' requirements for one time delivery and fuel storage needs. Most of these facilities are company owned and operated, while others are leased from the commercial market. For any solution, we ensure that the operations of the storage facility are in accordance with global best practice to ensure safety, security, environmental, quality requirements of the most rigid international API standards what guarantees that product quality is maintained at all times.

Good. How it should be.

It is essential to have partners with a wide genuine sphere of influence in their region network of trustworthy, in-regions partners and relationships with highly placed the local government administration of the countries we operate in will prove valuable complete mission accomplishment.
