Origins

This section will have text and images explaining where and how the bags are made, illustrating the fact that they are made on a boat at the waters edge of the city in London. It will include facts about the materials, suppliers and processes involved in production.

It is likely that text will flow beyond the single screen , the image should be fixed with the text and any integrated images scrolling down the text box.

Dream

The photographs on the shop category page will link to an individual product page. Each product page will include 3 images on an image reel (i.e. if you click one it either enlargens or rotates to be the big image at the top of the trio). Each page will also include a text paragraph describing the item followed by dimensions, materials and pricing. This is an example for discussion and I will then create a page for each product.
