

Hi Brenda:

These are some very very beginning ideas..

I was thinking about working with their hands. Maybe these hands will not be the final ones. Smaller or different position. Not sure if the logo should be targeted more for females (like the purses). or more neutral colors..

I was thinking about having some kind of symbol that belongs to their ethnic background, or that identifies their culture.. I was looking in the internet, but not much background.. it says they are not from the garifuna group and their main occupation not sure if is maybe fishing? It said there was a high unemployment index. well.. basically something that identifies them as a community or some special material they have there so it can be used inside the hand..(so the symbols you see, are just to represent any other symbol that is meaningful to the community.

I Know we talk about a pier also.. I don't have a picture.

I have not explore other ideas.. like other options but I need to know what makes them unique or is it only the bag weaving(I think you said they will do more and different works under the same organization, not sure.. well.. let me know. I will think about other ideas as well..S

Correction-spelling: handmade(I had it as a picture file..will fix later)
