WHAT MAKES YOU TIC?

Marc Elliot knows the importance of understanding people's differences. He was born with a rare disease that left him with virtually no intestines, and at age nine, he developed a neurological disorder called Tourette's syndrome. He is now inspiring audiences all around the world by sharing his life story to convey the value of tolerance and the basic attitudes and behaviors that allow it to flourish. His inspiring presentation, What Makes You Tic? connects with people of all ages and is loaded with timely humor, powerful anecdotes, and important lessons to encourage audiences to "Live and Let Live".

HEAR WHAT

people are saying about Marc's speech...

Administrators:

Marc did an outstanding presentation for Perry High School students and Perry Middle School students on tolerance and respecting other's differences. His message was humorous, engaging, memorable and so very, very valuable. He spent time interacting with our students during all of the lunch blocks in both buildings, and the feedback from students and staff was overwhelmingly positive. Programs like this are experiences that kids remember; Marc left footprints on our hearts."

STUDENT Testimonials

"I just want to let you know how much I enjoyed your speech today. It was informational, inspirational, and funny! The whole Suffield community is convinced you are the best chapel speaker we've had in year."

- Lucy M. and Cordelia B., Suffield Academy in Suffield, CT

"You were by far one of the coolest and most interesting people I've ever heard speak. 'Live and Let Live' is one of the best messages out there. Thanks so much for coming!"

- Joey P., Bentley School in Oakland, CA

Parents:

"Wow... He is incredible... Changed my life... Actually CHANGED my life... The whole school loved him... I am now a different person..." How often does a parent of a high school senior receive these text messages? N E V E R! These are the actual words my senior daughter texted me following our recent assembly with Marc Elliott. It brought me immense joy to know that Marc Elliott had such an impact on my daughter's perspective of other's differences. His message of Live & Let Live profoundly changed her perspective of her own behaviors as well as her classmates. She and her fellow student body were very affected by his message. I believe he has ignited a positive shift in our school culture.
