

I Didn't Pay My Taxes. Am I in Trouble?

People fail to pay taxes for many valid reasons.

Personal problems might have gotten in the way. Business could be slow. You may think the government is not doing its job.

Or maybe, you believe you can get away with it.

We're not judging you for choosing not to pay your taxes.

But the IRS will.

See, the United States built its tax system on the assumption that Americans will willingly pay their taxes and honor their obligations to the government. You must've seen those ads the IRS run to invite non-taxpayers to come in their office and settle their accounts.

You have to know this: Once the IRS gets you in their office, you don't have too many options. By this time, they've already tagged you as a tax offender, and you will be treated like one.

You were called in their office so you can surrender yourself to the succeeding actions they'll take.

Here are the three (3) scenarios.

The IRS will...

1. Prosecute you like a criminal.

Did you know that in 2014, almost 95% of IRS criminal prosecutions ended in a conviction? That's the highest rate for any federal law enforcement agency.

2. Force you to pay a bloated amount on an installment plan.

The IRS can and will impose penalties and interest on your debt. These numbers usually total to an amount that's almost impossible to pay off.

3. Reduce your tax liability.

Are you in need? If that's the reason you weren't able to pay your tax, the IRS reduces liabilities for qualified individuals-- but only through Enrolled Agents like us.

Did you fail to pay taxes? You have to act fast. Not filing taxes knowingly is a criminal offense.

Fast facts: Are you in trouble?

- Just made a mistake? Lost your returns in the mail? The IRS will understand.

But it's hard to prove this when they got to you first. Get in touch with us so we can protect your rights and we will prove to the IRS that you didn't mean to skip filing taxes.

- The IRS is not quick to prosecute you for not paying so long as you act before they do and come in with the help of a licensed Enrolled Agent like our firm. Again, you have to do this before they contact you. We have experts who will make arrangements to explain the situation in detail so you can avoid prosecution.
- If you run, you will be prosecuted. The IRS is a big well-oiled machine, and it will find you. If you cooperate, you are less likely to be prosecuted. By using the services of an Enrolled Agent, you show good faith to the IRS. They will take that you are serious about resolving your debt with the government.
- If your income source is illegal, the IRS will likely recommend prosecution.
- The more you avoid the IRS, the more probable you will get prosecuted. We can get lead time from the IRS to do work that will help you fix the situation. With our assistance, you will be filing your past tax returns as soon as possible.

Okay, so you might be in trouble. What else should you know?

- The IRS does not need the exact amount of your debt before you get prosecuted and convicted.
- The IRS can collect taxes plus interest, plus penalties, for all the taxes you have skipped over the years. Add to that a compound rate of over 28%--yes, just like a loan shark.
- The IRS runs a computerized operation. They identify non-filers in a single click.
- The filing of a return starts the audit and collection time limits.
- They also pay a bounty to those who will report you.

Don't want to be prosecuted? We can help you. Here's how.

- We will act as your buffer, and we will explain your case to avoid prosecution.
- It's tricky to deal with the IRS because they want to prosecute you on the first sliver of evidence. Enter the government program with us so you won't have to deal with the IRS directly and risk incriminating yourself.
- We will find out if the IRS owes you money. The IRS will never tell you this. We will help you get to the bottom of your case and see if they should pay you back instead of you paying them.
- Because we are accredited, we have direct access to all IRS databases. We can pull up all your information. We will do a thorough analysis of your case--very few firms in the US can do this.

- We will directly call your revenue officer through the specially assigned number we have. Even if you do not have your past W-2s, 1099s, and 1098s, we can get them for you easily. No private firm can do this for you. Simply, these are resources you do not have.
- We can remove your non-filing status in as little as a few weeks depending on how much work we have to do. Your situation and your records all contribute to the process-- but we should be able to clear up your status as soon as possible.

Frequently Asked Questions

- Do you work for the IRS?

No, we do not work for the IRS. We do not collect taxes.

- Who are you and what exactly do you do?

We are a Tax Advocacy Group, federally licensed to help preserve taxpayer's rights as mandated by the US Congress.

- Are you authorized to help me?

Yes. We have a license from the U.S. Department of the Treasury. We're also a "A" rated Better Business Bureau (BBB) accredited business.

- How can you help me?

We work for you to assert your rights as a taxpayer and resolve your tax case. Together, we will prevent any possible criminal prosecution or enforcement action.

- When would I need you?

If you didn't pay your taxes, call us. The IRS asks all taxpayers to pay full taxes in cash on April 15 of each year. Call us if April 15 has passed and you have not paid yet.

- Can you really help me?

Yes. We have resolved numerous cases, and we are licensed to help you. Just for your peace of mind, we have a full money back guarantee if we make our first-ever error dealing with your case.

- I think I'm already in deep trouble! The IRS called me. Can you help?

Remember, the IRS will never call you. If anyone claims they are the IRS, hang up. The IRS either mails you or comes to your place of residence or business.

- What do I do if the IRS sends me a letter or comes to my house or business?

You are in deep trouble. CALL US IMMEDIATELY when you receive a certified letter or when IRS agents enter your home or business. Tell them you are represented by an Enrolled Agent.

- I have a very old case. Can I still use your service?

Yes. We handle all past, present, and future tax debt issues.

Some advice for those who fail to pay taxes

In the eyes of the IRS, you are a tax offender. Our files are filled with garnishment orders from the IRS. Experience has proven that even when tax offenders think it's been a long time and the IRS will never get them, the IRS always does.

The IRS can and will take money right out of your pocket. Every client that was garnished did not believe the IRS was going to take their money and acted as if they were surprised.

A Final Warning

For yourself and your family's security, please do not think that you can escape an enormous institution like the IRS. This is a fatal error. Many have landed in jail when their problems would've been sorted out by a call to an Enrolled Agent like us.

If you have paid all your taxes on time, you do not need our services. We understand that those who come to us are at a high risk of serious enforcement action by the IRS.

We will help you turn your situation around and use your FINAL OPPORTUNITY to make things right. As long as you work with us in good faith and with mutual respect, we promise to protect you.

If you're ready to get out of trouble, please call us.

RULES OF THE PROGRAM

All rules are non-negotiable unless otherwise advised.

Rule 1

Our tax experts will handle ALL communications with the IRS and State. If you contact and speak to the IRS/ State directly, without our express permission or knowledge, you will be expelled from the program, and the Enrolled Agent will withdraw from representing you.

There are many details of your case that may be outside your knowledge, and work is being performed on as needed basis. Corresponding with a revenue officer without this information may deem us unable to guarantee the services we have guaranteed to you in writing.

Rule 2

All required documents must be sent within ten (10) days, or you will be suspended until the document(s) are received.

We are under a very strict timeline with the revenue officer handling your case. Failure to provide necessary documents that they request from you will likely result in disqualification from federal assistance.

Rule 3

All payments must be made on-time, every time.

A $50 late fee is applied if you fail to make a payment or wish to make a payment change. If you fail to make a payment within ten (10) days and have not made acceptable arrangements approved by the Case Manager, you will be suspended. Your power of attorney/representation--your only buffer--will be revoked, and the IRS will actively pursue enforcement action. They will garnish your wage or levy your bank account for the entire amount you owe. The final resolution is finished only after you have paid in full.

Rule 4

You must fully cooperate with us in good faith and all honesty. No exceptions.

If you fail to return our calls or emails, make misrepresentations to us, or omit/mislead us about your assets, you will be expelled from the program. The Enrolled Agent will withdraw his representation immediately--no questions asked.

Rule 5

We will file all your tax returns on your behalf for the next five (5) years, or until your debt with the IRS has been discharged. No exceptions.

We can only guarantee your resolution this way. If you currently have a CPA, Accountant or Attorney, you must discontinue their services, as our license supersedes all others. Any services acquired outside the program will hinder your resolution. We don't and will not work with any outside firms nor do we work with your Attorney, CPA, Financial Advisor, Accountant or Tax Preparer.

For any further questions, please call us. Let's resolve your case as soon as possible.
