3F Probiotic food

Fish Disease Diminished Logically

3F Probiotic food's special Formula additives stimulate antibodies in the fishes gut, thus making it easier for the fish to resist infections.

Use as soon possible when any fish is infected to limit spread of infection. Feed 3 times daily while infection is present for optimum results.

Use 3F regularly in your Aquarium feeding regimen, for healthier fish, which are much less likely to succumb to diseases. Use at least 5 times weekly.

3F acts against 7 major families of pathogens and other infections also.

Fish Disease Diagnostics Ltd. is committed to bringing advanced Aquarists and Fish Farmers state of the art products, that will assist them to quickly diagnose disease and related problems and apply new and often natural remedies. These unique solutions like our 3F probiotic food will be preferable to many alternatives currently available.

Prevention is better than cure, so the old adage goes. With this in mind FDDL will strive to find solutions, that will benefit the modern fishkeeper.

FDDL products are only licensed to 'quality' stores. These stores will be able to provide Hobbyists with expert advice and will have the products available to maximize the life and health of their fish
