

Something in the spirit of this (organic...outside):

We've always been drawn to (but do not necessarily need) the outline of a bottle bottom...perhaps encircling a picture or having the words inside. Avoid the wine color though.

And/or anything where outdoors is implied....

And/or we have no problem with simple or complex...simple designs would probaby be easier to work into an overall labelthe object works best when somehwat original...avoid clip art. Complex lends itself more to some clip art in my opinion.

Friends and romance are themes we push but not easy in a logo.
