

RISK MANAGEMENT AND SECURITY IN CONFLICT AND POST-CONFLICT STATES

Tsamota

Tsamota Ltd is a United Kingdom-registered firm specialising inter alia in offering field expertise and assistance in the execution of risk management and security sector projects in conflict-affected and otherwise unstable States. The Tsamota team has recently expanded its services into the field of natural resources extraction. We combine the wealth of Tsamota field experts, who are weathered operators in conflict and post-conflict states, with our business experience in the extractive industry. Tsamota has thus put itself in a prime position to build essential bridges between mining companies operating in challenging extractive environments and security and reputational risks that arise from militias, governments, civil society, international and national compliance structures.

Whilst offering the necessary security, intelligence and risk assessment and management structures, Tsamota will take risk mitigation a step further. Not only do we offer to be your company's ears and eyes on the ground and manage existing and future physical threats to your investments, we are proud to be one of the very first firms to combine tangible risks with an effective and comprehensive reputational risk management programme. Tsamota's experts are well acquainted with the often conflicting compliance structures with which mining companies are supposed to comply with nowadays. Our intricate understanding of the broad regulatory scheme within which a mining company operates includes domestic and international rules and regulations, OECD guidelines, EITI expectations, NGO / civil society dialogues, SEC rules and relevant UN sanctions and regulations. We are specialists in ensuring that the operations of your company will not affect negatively your shareholders' trust in its value, by building secure bridges between your field operations and your corporate social responsibilities. The economic value that Tsamota offers to prospective clients thus lies in the transformation of risks associated with humanitarian, socio-economic and environmental impacts of their business into assets.

INTELLIGENCE AND SECURITY SERVICES

Tsamota is configured to provide a wide range of intelligence- and security-related services to resource-extraction enterprises operating in unstable and high-risk locations; in every case, Tsamota's delivery of intelligence and security services is linked to the desire of private-sector clients to meet the highest standards of corporate social responsibility without endangering their access to capital markets - whatever the political complexities of extractive environment in which a firm is active, or seeks to be active.

NGO / CIVIL SOCIETY / GOVERNMENT LIAISON

Tsamota's team includes extensive expertise in participatory development and implementation of community development programmes; our approach always follows a path of consultations with local stakeholders regarding specific needs and the manner in which they should be addressed in a culturally sensitive manner, emphasizing local ownership of each project in order to ensure sustainability.

RISK MANAGEMENT & MONITORING

In the context of a new rise in resource-nationalism throughout the developing world, often combined with political instability, corruption and lack of institutional capacity, Tsamota offers its clients a network of specialists with invaluable expertise gained through years of interacting with senior government officials in various capacities.
