

1st
Annual

2013

STANFORD ADVANCE BIOSCIENCES SUMMER INSTITUTE

Succeeding in Graduate School

Tuesday, July 30th

4:30-6pm—LK102

A panel of diverse Stanford students will share their stories about transitioning to grad school and offer tips and strategies on how to prepare you for your new academic role.

Panelists: Nicole Clarke, Katie Cumnock, Anthony Ricci, PhD, and Jasmaine Williams and Luke Yancy Jr. Facilitated by Ken Hsu, Graduate Life Office Director and Terry Reyes, ADVANCE Institute Leader

Introduction to the Postdoc

Thursday, August 1st

4:30-6pm—Always M112

An experienced panel consisting of postdocs and faculty members will share their stories as well as perspectives about the postdoc process followed by a Q&A session.

Panelists: Jeanine Frey, PhD, Khameeka Kitt, PhD, Courtney Easley-Neal, PhD, Lino Gonzalez, PhD and Dan Jarosz, PhD. Facilitated by Terry Reyes

Introduction to Careers in Academia

Thursday, August 15th

4:30-6pm—LK120

An experienced panel consisting of faculty from various campuses will discuss diverse career options within academia, share their stories, and impart advice.

Panelists: Teaster Baird Jr., PhD, San Francisco State University; John Boothroyd, PhD, Stanford University; Leilani Miller, PhD, Santa Clara University; Brandon White, PhD, San Jose State University; Kelley Yan, MD, PhD, Stanford University. Facilitated by Laura Sanman, ADVANCE Institute Leader

Discovering Your Future Career: The Role of Values and Social Identity

Kimberly Griffin, PhD, Associate Professor, University of Maryland

Thursday, August 22nd

Noon-1:30pm—LK102

Dr. Griffin will share findings from her recent study which addresses the complex issue of career choice for PhD Biomedical Students. The discussion will center around the impact of personal values, mentoring, social constructs on future career decisions.

Writing the NSF Application

Monday, August 5th

4:30-6pm—LK130

Current NSF fellows discuss how to craft a successful NSF application.

Taking off the Mask: Understanding the Impostor Syndrome

Doree Allen, PhD, Senior Lecturer and the Oral Communication Program Director at the Hume Center for Writing and Speaking

Tuesday, August 6th

4:30-6pm—LK130

Do you ever feel like you somehow tricked everyone into thinking you are bright, competent, and capable? Are you worried that it's some big mistake you ended up at Stanford, and that sooner or later you will be unmasked as a complete fraud? Join us for a practical workshop on the surprisingly common Impostor Syndrome, and learn how to combat impostor feelings. It's time to own your success!

Facilitated by Alexandra Scharr, ADVANCE Institute Leader

Navigating Stanford Resources

Tuesday, August 20th

4:30-6pm—LK102

Students will have the opportunity to interact with graduate students who have taken advantage of various centers and resources on campus. Students will be provided with tips on how to efficiently navigate all the places one can go as a graduate student at Stanford and beyond!

Panelists: Anh Diep, Eduardo Gonzalez-Maldonado, Casey Nichols, Gandhi Pierre Louis. Facilitated by Tiffany Williams, ADVANCE Institute Leader

Introduction to Careers in Industry

Thursday, September 5th

4:30-6pm—Location TBD

Provides an overview of non-academic careers in industry. With representatives from consulting, science policy, drug discovery, and pharmaceutical research, the panel will provide an introduction to a vast array of potential career choices for bioscience PhD students.

Panelists: Luis Chia, PhD, Co-founder of CS Laboratory Technologies; Kevin Grimes, MD, MBA, FACP, Co-director, SPARK Translational Research Program; Steven Schow, PhD, Vice-president, Research & Development, Telik, Inc.; Rebecca Slayton, PhD, Scholar, Center for International Security Cooperation. Facilitated by Benjamin Naecker, ADVANCE Institute Leader

Registration Link

Workshops are Free to All Students & Postdocs.

Limited Seating is Available. Must Register to Attend.

<http://med.stanford.edu/phd/diversity>