I thought I wanted to live on my own, but the reality is I just didn't want to go through the hassle of finding

People are social creatures. It's simply a human trait. Whether we are introverts or extroverts, shy or a good room mate. Someone with common interests that's not out partying all night. I'm a professional and don't need that in my life. Now I'm a part of a great social, athletic, professional community that encourages the most out of me. - Frank, 30 gregarious, we need to know that we are part of a common group. We need to feel that we have others with whom we connect and who share commonalities. I love feeling accepted as a piece of a greater puzzle where we look out for each other, support each other's needs, and simply have a great time together! - Susan, 33
