

ABOUT

Loquantur Universal Communication was born out of the desire to offer reliable, affordable phone systems for the small- to medium-sized business. Since 2003, we have offered hosted VOIP PBX and call routing services, but they were bundled with larger IT services. As such, it was only cost-effective for the large corporate client.

By re-imagining Loquantur and creating a separate company, our clients benefit from those years of fine-tuning and we could serve the needs of a much broader range of businesses. Loquantur melds the fresh ideas of youth with the reliability of experience to find the truly best working communication solutions for the companies we serve.
