

The Yamaha Sky Crew demonstrated the aerial capabilities of their latest UAV (unmanned aerial vehicle) at O'Reillys Vineyard at Canungra. Picture Glenn Hampson

"It's almost as expensive to buy tractors and other equipment used to tackle weeds and this type of thing can do it quicker — it's got to be pretty advantageous to a working property."

Scott Noble, Brent Love, and Reggi Hill (controller), of Yamaha, with a UAV (unmanned aerial vehicle) at O'Reilly's Vineyard at Canungra.

More Stories

Director fined for dodgy dealing

News

Horror long weekend on Coast roads

News

Down the aisle: four wedding-worthy trends to come out of bridal...

Vogue Australia

Inside the lavish wedding Kanye West just interrupted

Vogue Australia

Schoolgirls die in tragic love pact

The Geelong Advertiser

Brothers plead guilty to growing cannabis

The Geelong Advertiser

Recommended by

Promoted Stories

Bunnings offloads store for $43.5m

realestate.com.au

This florist was amazed by what their bank did to their sales

Commonwealth Bank on YouTube

Got Private Health Insurance? You Should Read This Now!

Health Insurance Comparison

Dim Sum And Then Some: Eating Like A Local In Hong Kong

Junkee

Unexplained lower back pain? It could be ankylosing spondylitis

The Conversation

The Cameraman Decided To Keep Rolling

Reshareable.org

Most popular News stories

Sexual predator terrorises Coast

Mum told to breastfeed in toilets