Q. & A.

What is Health Counseling?

Health Counseling helps you connect the dots between what you eat and how you feel. You'll know how to stop binges and control cravings, multiply your energy, ease digestive stress, balance your weight and delight in what you eat like never before - without restriction. Health counseling is for those of us who love food.

Who benefits best from this work?

Busy super hero moms, stressed out ladies on the go, women who want to balance their weight, those who want to feel better about their health and food choices.

What happens in the initial consultation?

This 45 min. phone call is a time to discuss your unique health concern I guarantee you'll walk away with at least 1 aha about why you're stuck and how to act unstuck (clarity) in the areas of food, exercise, stress and self-care.
