What is it about bamboo that makes it so good?

ANTIBACTERIAL – destroys or suppresses bacteria growth and thus widely used in the health industry for items like, surgical clothing, medical gloves, hospital bedding, nurses clothing, gauze...even wallpaper for antimold.

MOISTURE ABSORPTION – as the fibre is fine and hollow, it has excellent properties of moisture absorption.

SOFT & COMFORTABLE ON THE SKIN – bamboo has been compared to silk and cashmere because of its amazing softness on the skin.

ODOURLESS – one of bamboo's most practical advantages. Sweat attracts bacteria and bacteria attracts odour. Avoid those embarrassingly sweaty meetings and after sport smelliness.

WRINKLE FREE – the garment drapes beautifully and is easy wash and wear. Squish the garment in a ball and test it for yourself.

AFFORDABLE – with the comfort of silk, cashmere and satin, you would expect to pay three times the price for the same benefit.

MOISTURE WICKING – bamboo has excellent moisture wicking properties and towers over the claims of many polyester garments in the market.

HYPO ALLERGENIC – bamboo fabrics produce fewer allergic reactions than other fabrics. Ideal for asthmatics, tinea, eczema and skin irritations.

DURABILITY AND STRENGTH – bamboo fabrics are more durable than most fabrics.

ULTRAVIOLET QUALITIES – as proven in scientific research from Deakin University, bamboo has 60% higher UV resistance than cotton.
