

Vdovichenko Bee Farm

We are a 3rd generation of beekeepers that, inherited the love for bees and old fashion ways to care for them. Family owned and operated, here in Anderson SC. Our honey is Completely Raw and Natural. We do not use any chemicals with our bees and we do not feed our bees, leaving them their own honey to feed on. Honey is never heated and is only coarse filtered. We are certified South Carolina Producer.

Sourwood trees bloom from mid June to late July in mountains, where we move our beehives. Under favorable conditions the nectar is so abundant; it can be shaken from the blooms in small drops. Sourwood Honey is one of the most favorable honeys in the world, winning best tasting honey in the world 2 times. It is extremely aromatic, with a distinctive honey flavor of anise and spice. And it crystallizes very slowly if not at all. There is no other honey like this.
