A photograph of two young children from behind, looking at a large, brightly lit display. The child on the left is wearing a pink tutu, pink leggings, and pink shoes, with large pink flower-shaped wings. The child on the right is wearing a black and white striped shirt, black leggings, and brown boots, with large white butterfly-shaped wings. The display is a large white board with a black grass-like border at the bottom. Above the board, there is a shelf with various items, including boxes of tissues, a container of pens, and a jar labeled '45p'. The text on the board reads: "...oh where oh where can LITTLE PUGGLE be...".
