

The musical note is backwards (because I just flipped your design without editing). Can it still work with the note in the front of the head and the mask in the back? Or does that mess up your design? I love how the symbols fit together.

The pink splat looks a little “flat” compared to the others. A little more protruding “splats” maybe?

Could you finish off the outline with a paint “splat” or drop? The end looked cut off. Whatever you think looks best.

I rotated the head a little to try and make the “2” be a little more prominent as the neck. Maybe the blue only connects at the “R”?

Colors—I go back and forth between “remember” being blue or orange. Could you try to switch the blue and the orange out? Sorry!
