DURBANVILLE DISTILLERY

Father-son duo, Robert and Eugene Kleyn, embarked on an exciting new venture which brought together their two greatest passions - engineering and fine liquor.

What sets these craftsmen apart is their expert technical background, which is evident in both their method and equipment - cold distillation and their hand-built vacuum still, Eve.

Furthermore, Eve the still is big. It is to the best of their knowledge, the largest liquor-producing vacuum-still in the world. But hey, this is not to say bigger is better, only that anything less would not have held up against their great ambition.

So go ahead and pour yourself a G&T, Martini or a Mojito if you like, and appreciate the diligence, dedication and passion which had gone into every drop.
