

I like the fact that this sign looks professional but also child-friendly. The little yellow star that dots the “i” gives it an element of restrained playfulness.

I like the abstract curve that suggests an eye without having a lot of distracting detail. The colors in this one are too dull for a pediatric practice.

This logo has nice use of bright colors and a simple font. It looks professional and friendly.

This one also looks professional and child-friendly. The butterfly in the top logo and the flower in this one help create a welcoming feeling.
