RICHARDSON BRANDS - A LEGACY OF AMERICAN FAVORITES

Richardson Brands is known across America and carries a long heritage of award-winning confectionery products, quality, and staying power: Dryden & Palmer® Rock Candy was introduced in 1880, Richardson Mints in 1893, GravyMaster™ Browning and Seasoning Sauce in 1935, Beechies® Gum in 1936, and Bogdon's® Candy Sticks in 1945. The future brings new flavors, line extensions, and very contemporary usage for Richardson's nostalgia brands.

These brands are all produced at the company's headquarters in Canajoharie, New York; in the picturesque landscape of the Mohawk River Valley. Richardson's 180,000 square foot facility proudly carries the State of New York's coveted Good Manufacturing Practices Seal of Approval (GMP), as well as a superior rating, the highest awarded by AIB (American Institute of Baking) International.

OUR MISSION

Richardson Brands balances innovation with tried and true practices drawn from a rich past. We create traditional products that are tasty pleasures which delight the senses, as well as new products that are better-for-you and sustainably produced. Richardson Brands will continue to be a trusted resource for both our B2B and B2C clients by offering exceptional customer service and support to our loyal customers.

To that end, we pledge to:

- Ensure the highest standard for food safety.
- Provide professional and courteous service.
- Create value through innovation and quality.
- Maintain the cleanliness and the safety of our manufacturing facilities.
- Choose production options that are respectful to the environment.

INNOVATION

Built on a tradition of excellence, Richardson Brands continues to listen to the market and develop innovative new products which cater to the changes in American consumer habits. Our "Better-for-you" confections are fortified with healthy ingredients and developed in a way that is better for our planet and healthier for people.

Taste the difference from brands that have stood the test of time.
