

a young woman dies on the street, right in front of toni's home. although she's wearing business-like clothes, she has no purse or documents whatsoever. in one of her pockets, toni finds a very old business card with the name "violetta" (each of the "T" letters is a cross), the word "medium" and a phone number on it. oh yes, and the woman has a humongous furuncle, exactly on the tip of her nose. the first person who reaches the woman is one of toni's neighbours, an old pensioner. 30 minutes later, toni finds him in his home, with the throat cut. he's holding the business card toni took from the dead woman.

a hearse named ferdinand. a strange house by the lake, with a mini disneyland in the garden. a witch. no, no, two witches! a mad scientist. a stuffed bunny. the visit of the us president and the first lady in romania.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR:

humongous furuncle, exactly on the tip of her nose. the first person who reaches the woman is one of toni's neighbours, an old pensioner. 30 minutes later, toni finds him in his home, with the throat cut. he's holding the business card toni took from the dead woman.
a hearse named ferdinand. a strange house

ILASIER,
frate!

Toni Bega

ILASIER,
frate!

Toni Bega