Spend more time running your business and taking care of your customers, knowing that your accounting and tax functions are taken care of. Andrey Yakunichev, CPA has worked with hundreds of small and large businesses to learn the best practices utilized by the smartest CPAs in Los Angeles.

Take complexity out of your business finances and taxes. Get a clear understanding of what needs to be done, when, how much it will cost and what options you have.

I will sit down with you to learn about your business. Based on the discussion you will receive recommendations on how to manage your finances with the least amount of interference with your core business, reduce your taxes and stay in compliance with State and Federal tax rules and regulations.

Establishing the right legal structure, acquiring financing, setting up a recordkeeping system and even choosing a bookkeeping system are just a few of the issues with which a CPA can assist.
