This twenty-seventeen collection is our most epic to date; we kind of hope you bought two so you won't have to mediate.
The Sock Lovers Advent Calendar™ ships across our great nation, while the rest of the world expresses its frustration.
For the third year in a row it arrives only in Canada, so consider yourself lucky cracking open your sock pinata.
Filled to the brim with socks of such colours, it's certain you'll feel like a person of large dollars.
The upcoming year is not far away, and with that we wish you good health, adventure and happiness every day.
