Ranch Valencia Superior Orange Juice

Locally Sourced – Tree to Glass in Hours, Not Weeks. Delivered fresh to your establishment

Rancho Valencia Orange Juice provides the finest quality and most delicious artisanal orange juice for a limited window of time in late summer, early fall. From our small 250 tree grove we harvest later, waiting for what is known as the Gambler's Crop. Though production can be less, the extra time before harvest allows the crop to ripen more and add further sweetness to the fruit. Each year we have limited production of approximately 1,000 gallons of amazingly delicious juice.

With industrially-produced orange juice, after the oranges are squeezed, the juice is stored in giant holding tanks and the oxygen is removed from them, which allows the liquid to keep for up to a year without spoiling. As this makes the juice completely flavorless, the industry uses "flavor packs" to re-flavor the juice.

Remember that a Valencia orange never gets any riper from the moment it is picked from the tree. That is why we pick, process and deliver all within a 48 hour window. Growing and squeezing your own would be about the only way to get closest to the quality of Ranch Juice.

The unique environmental factors of Glen Oak Hills contribute to the quality of our juice in the same way the terrior of the land contributes to Temecula Wine Country producing some of the best wines in Southern California.

Terrior of Rancho Valencia,

- 1,700 foot elevation
- Rolling slopes
- Excellent drainage from decomposed granite
- Balanced soil quality slightly acidic to neutral range
- Abundant sunshine

At Rancho Valencia our production is carried out to the highest standard in a local certified commercial processing kitchen. All county and state permits are up-to-date including CDFA for growing, transporting and processing and all rules are followed. All involved are certified in food handling and all proper insurances are in place.
