Utilising our existing logo

The content would be as follows:

The subheadline would read:

thegrowspace is a team of psychologists and teachers focused on supporting children with social, emotional, and learning difficulties. We provide specialised tutoring and support for children and their families.

The three content sections along the bottom would read:

Know the Child

We are dedicated to evidence-based assessment and diagnosis. We believe that early intervention requires a clear understanding of the unique challenges faced by the child. This involves assessment and also a dedication to working with children, their parents, and also their preschool and school contexts. This allows us to ensure that any intervention is tailored to the child.

Meet the Need

We provide individualised tutoring for children that focuses on their specific areas of learning need. Our team are dedicated to providing best-practice learning support within an environment of encouragement and care, understanding the impact that learning difficulties can have on broader areas of confidence and self-concept.

Watch them Grow

We are committed to seeing growth, this requiring strategic intervention and the ability to assess and provide evidence of achievement. Our passion is not only to provide effective support, but also to help children and their families to see this growth, fostering a culture of positivity and engagement in learning.

Instead of a 'try it now' button it would be good to have a 'I would like to know more' space where people can enter an email address and phone number so that we can then contact them.
