Alex Mitchell is passionate about creating and scaling powerful web and mobile products that make a significant impact in millions of people's lives around the world. Alex deeply enjoys building and managing the product and development teams that help achieve that goal.

Alex is currently the Director of Product at Kin Insurance (www.kin.com). He was previously the CPO of ICX Media (www.icxmedia.com) which operated in the AdTech industry, helping the world's largest media companies with data-inspired storytelling. Previously a Senior Product leader at Upside Travel (www.upside.com) and Vistaprint Digital (www.vistaprint.com/digital)

Testimonials:

"Alex helped me set focus and intention in my goal of scaling my independent projects. Before working with Alex I felt like I was jumping from idea to idea with no plan. During our session he proved clear action items which I enjoyed completing. Each week we reviewed the progress and established new items to iterate towards my goal. I am very thankful for my mentoring sessions with Alex" -- Marty

"Alex has been a fantastic coach. I signed up for 1:1 interview prep with Alex. From the get-go, Alex was invested in helping me land my next product role. He helped me polish my stories, deliver my responses more effectively and prepare for any curveball questions during my interviews. As a successful product leader, he brings tons of deep industry knowledge which I found invaluable for my preparation. However, what sets Alex apart is that he's a mentor, a cheerleader and a friend all rolled into one. I highly recommend Alex Mitchell to anyone looking for a mentor in the product space."

- Anuj

Alex was careful to understand our issue and was open about his prior experience working in the same space. It was great to bounce ideas off him and get some encouraging feedback to keep moving forward.

-Tom

Alex is obviously a master artist when it comes to growth and growth hacking. He quickly distilled the key points that I needed work on and provided super insights. Most importantly, he went above and beyond by sending follow-up suggestions and action items, demonstrating his interest and kindness in helping me. I would highly recommend Alex to anyone working on initial p/m strategies.

Testimonial by Marty from September 2020

Alex is a fantastic mentor and I definitely recommend him to any Product manager or aspiring PMs. Alex worked with me on my resume since I wasn't getting any callbacks. The results were almost instantaneous as I got my 1st callback from a recruiter after only 2 hours of applying with the resume he helped me with. I can't recommend Alex enough.
