

What do the Manchester City Football Club and the Indian Government Health Department have in common?

Evolis card printers: their choice for smart card personalization

Manchester City FC picked Evolis to issue subscribers' cards, provide access to the stadium, and manage its temporary staff. In India, for 60 million beneficiaries, it was Evolis who provided the portable systems that encode and issue personal health insurance cards within the scope of a Federal Government scheme. It is no surprise that Evolis is trusted by companies and governmental bodies worldwide to handle their advanced and high-security identification requirements. Simply because Evolis' solutions are innovative, user-friendly, reliable and cost-efficient.

More information and success stories on www.evolis.com

evolis
card printers