

Mike and Jacquie Tate live in Frisco, Texas. They have a passion for children and been involved with them throughout their married life. For many years, they have worked with kids in church youth groups; involved with city sports activities and taught marriage seminars at their church.

Mike and Jacquie enjoy traveling and visiting with family and friends. They plan to travel the country sharing the wonderful adventures of Herba Hoota with as many children as possible because they think kids are ---“WAY COOL!”
