Astral Social is a social media marketing agency which creates and maintains online social presence for brands and businesses. We've been immersed in the social media sector since 2007. If you are looking for a team that is passionate about the web, and even more passionate about creating work that hits solid marketing goals, then you'll appreciate our history of building and operating successful websites and online presences.

When you work with us, you get personal, customized attention from our senior staff led by our CEO/Creative Director Chris Anderson. Chris is a recognized social media and online marketing expert who has contributed to various publications, businesses, and online presences. He spearheaded the creation of one of the most innovative online lifestyle portals, The Anomalous, and has grown it to over 500,000 daily readers. It's closely followed by the likes of actress/entrepreneur Jessica Alba, superstar band The Doors, and world-famous publisher/motivational speaker Darren Hardy, among others.

We've heard the horror stories about agencies that disappear or won't return your calls. That will never happen with us. Our clients have our personal cell phone numbers, so we are never out of reach.

Complete Solution

Astral Social offers everything a brand or business needs to gain massive exposure and grow their customer base. Services include monthly Facebook and Twitter stream management, targeted social media advertising to attract new business, presence customization, online press release distribution, search engine optimization, and fan acquisition on Facebook, Twitter, Google+, and YouTube.

Facebook & Twitter Stream Management | Targeted Social Media Advertising |
Press Release Distribution | Fan Acquisition | Search Engine Optimization

From 2010 to 2012, the number of people following any brand on a social network has gone from 16% to 33%. That's a 106% increase!

OUR SERVICES

Monthly Account Management

Engaging with fans is critical to building your online community. We understand that some organizations do not have the resources to review these channels, so Astral Social offers Stream Management for your pages. With this service, our team will monitor your page on a weekly or daily basis and post updates or replies to fans commenting on your page. Targeted Social Media Advertising is also included, allowing you to reach out and attract new customers.

Packages start at $249/mo.

Press Release Distribution

It's simple. You write an announcement about your organization – a new product launch, current promotion, or local team sponsorship – whatever. We distribute your release to every major news site and search engine on the Web, and can put you in front of consumers and journalists.

Every organization has news that will interest potential customers. With Astral Social, you can quickly and painlessly share your news. Plus, we're here to help. We'll give you tons of tricks, tips and tools to help you create the perfect announcement in minutes. Never written a release before? No problem.

Packages start at $199.99

Fan Acquisition

So how do you make your page get loads of traffic quickly and easily? You might have guessed it right away. That is by getting as many fans as possible on your social network profile in the least amount of time. Then you can easily promote, because every time you post on your wall or send out a tweet, every single fan can actually get to see them in real time. We're not talking hundreds but thousands of fans.

We deliver keyword-targeted fans on Facebook, Twitter, Google+ and YouTube.

Packages start at $39.99

Search Engine Optimization

In the current SEO world, backlinks are the backbone of determining where your website, video, blog or any other type of content will be positioned in Google and all major search engines. Whether you would like to increase traffic from search engines to your site using the power of backlinks, or if you like to gain more exposure through forums and social bookmarks, Astral Social is here to help you.
