WHY DO YOU GIVE?

Alison Mackay

"We need to support organizations like Homes First which are seeking longer-term solutions to make permanent housing available to all."

Alison Mackay is a long-term Homes First donor and an accomplished musician with the Tafelmusik Baroque Orchestra. Despite spending a large portion of her career touring across Canada and the world, she has always been invested in her community.

Alison's interest in social housing comes from her day-to-day interactions with the homeless in Toronto.

Living downtown, she got to know many of the familiar faces scattered around her neighbourhood. When she and her husband were given a unique gift allowing them to pay off their mortgage much earlier than anticipated, Alison knew she wanted to contribute to an organization that gave others a home. Homes First was the perfect recipient.

Alison encourages everyone to contribute to a worthy cause, no matter your income. Brought up as child with the concept of tithing, that even on a small income you give away at least a tenth, giving back has never been a question for her.

Thank you to Alison and our many donors who continue to support the work we do.
