Polly came in as a very undernourished, shaky and dehydrated stray. She was nursed back to health and received the necessary shots for her to regain her health.

Polly

January 2013

Polly's new family loves her very much.
She has gone "wild" for catnip!

Chloe

Chloe was 1 of 79 dogs brought in from a puppy mill seizure. At only 1 year of age – she was already being bred for her puppies and never let out to play.

February 2013

What a difference a loving family makes! Chloe loves the park and just being able to be a pup again!

"Dogs are not our whole life, but they make our lives whole."

— Roger Caras

Juno

Juno was just 4 months old when brought into The WHS as a stray. He spent over 2 lonely months in Adoption – desperately wanting someone to play with him.

March 2013

After dropping by the shelter to “just take a look”, the new owners promptly adopted Juno who became an instant part of their family.

Penny arrived at The WHS as a stray and required extensive medical attention and grooming for serious matting. It was obvious from the start that Penny loved attention and was very sweet to everyone.

Penny

April 2013

Penny was one of the lucky ones. She was very quickly adopted and now lives with her Shih Tzu siblings and doting parents!

"Until one has loved an animal, a part of one's soul remains unawakened."

– Anatole France

A close-up profile of a brown dog, likely a Weimaraner, with striking blue eyes. The dog's mouth is open, showing its white teeth and pink tongue. The background is a blurred green field.

Harley was surrendered to The WHS because of a “No Pets Allowed” policy. The behaviour staff worked on his manners during his stay at the shelter and he was a very quick learner.

Harley

A close-up, profile view of a tabby cat's face, looking towards the left. The cat has dark brown and black stripes on its fur, and its eyes are a vibrant green. The background is a soft, out-of-focus green, suggesting grass or foliage.

Penelope's mom was found as a pregnant stray and placed into one of our wonderful volunteer foster homes. Mommy cat and kittens stayed with their foster family until they were weaned and old enough to be adopted.

Penelope

June 2013

Adopted as a kitten, Penelope has bonded with her owner and become an affectionate companion who is seldom out of her sight.

Gallahan

Gallahan needed lots of TLC to turn him into the gentleman he is today. He arrived at our shelter as part of a seizure of 45 – he was very timid and scared. Staff worked with him on and off leash to establish his trust and work on his manners.

Toulouse

This purrrfect companion came in as part of a litter of five. He was covered in gashes and open wounds that required several weeks of foster care before he was strong enough to be placed into Adoption.

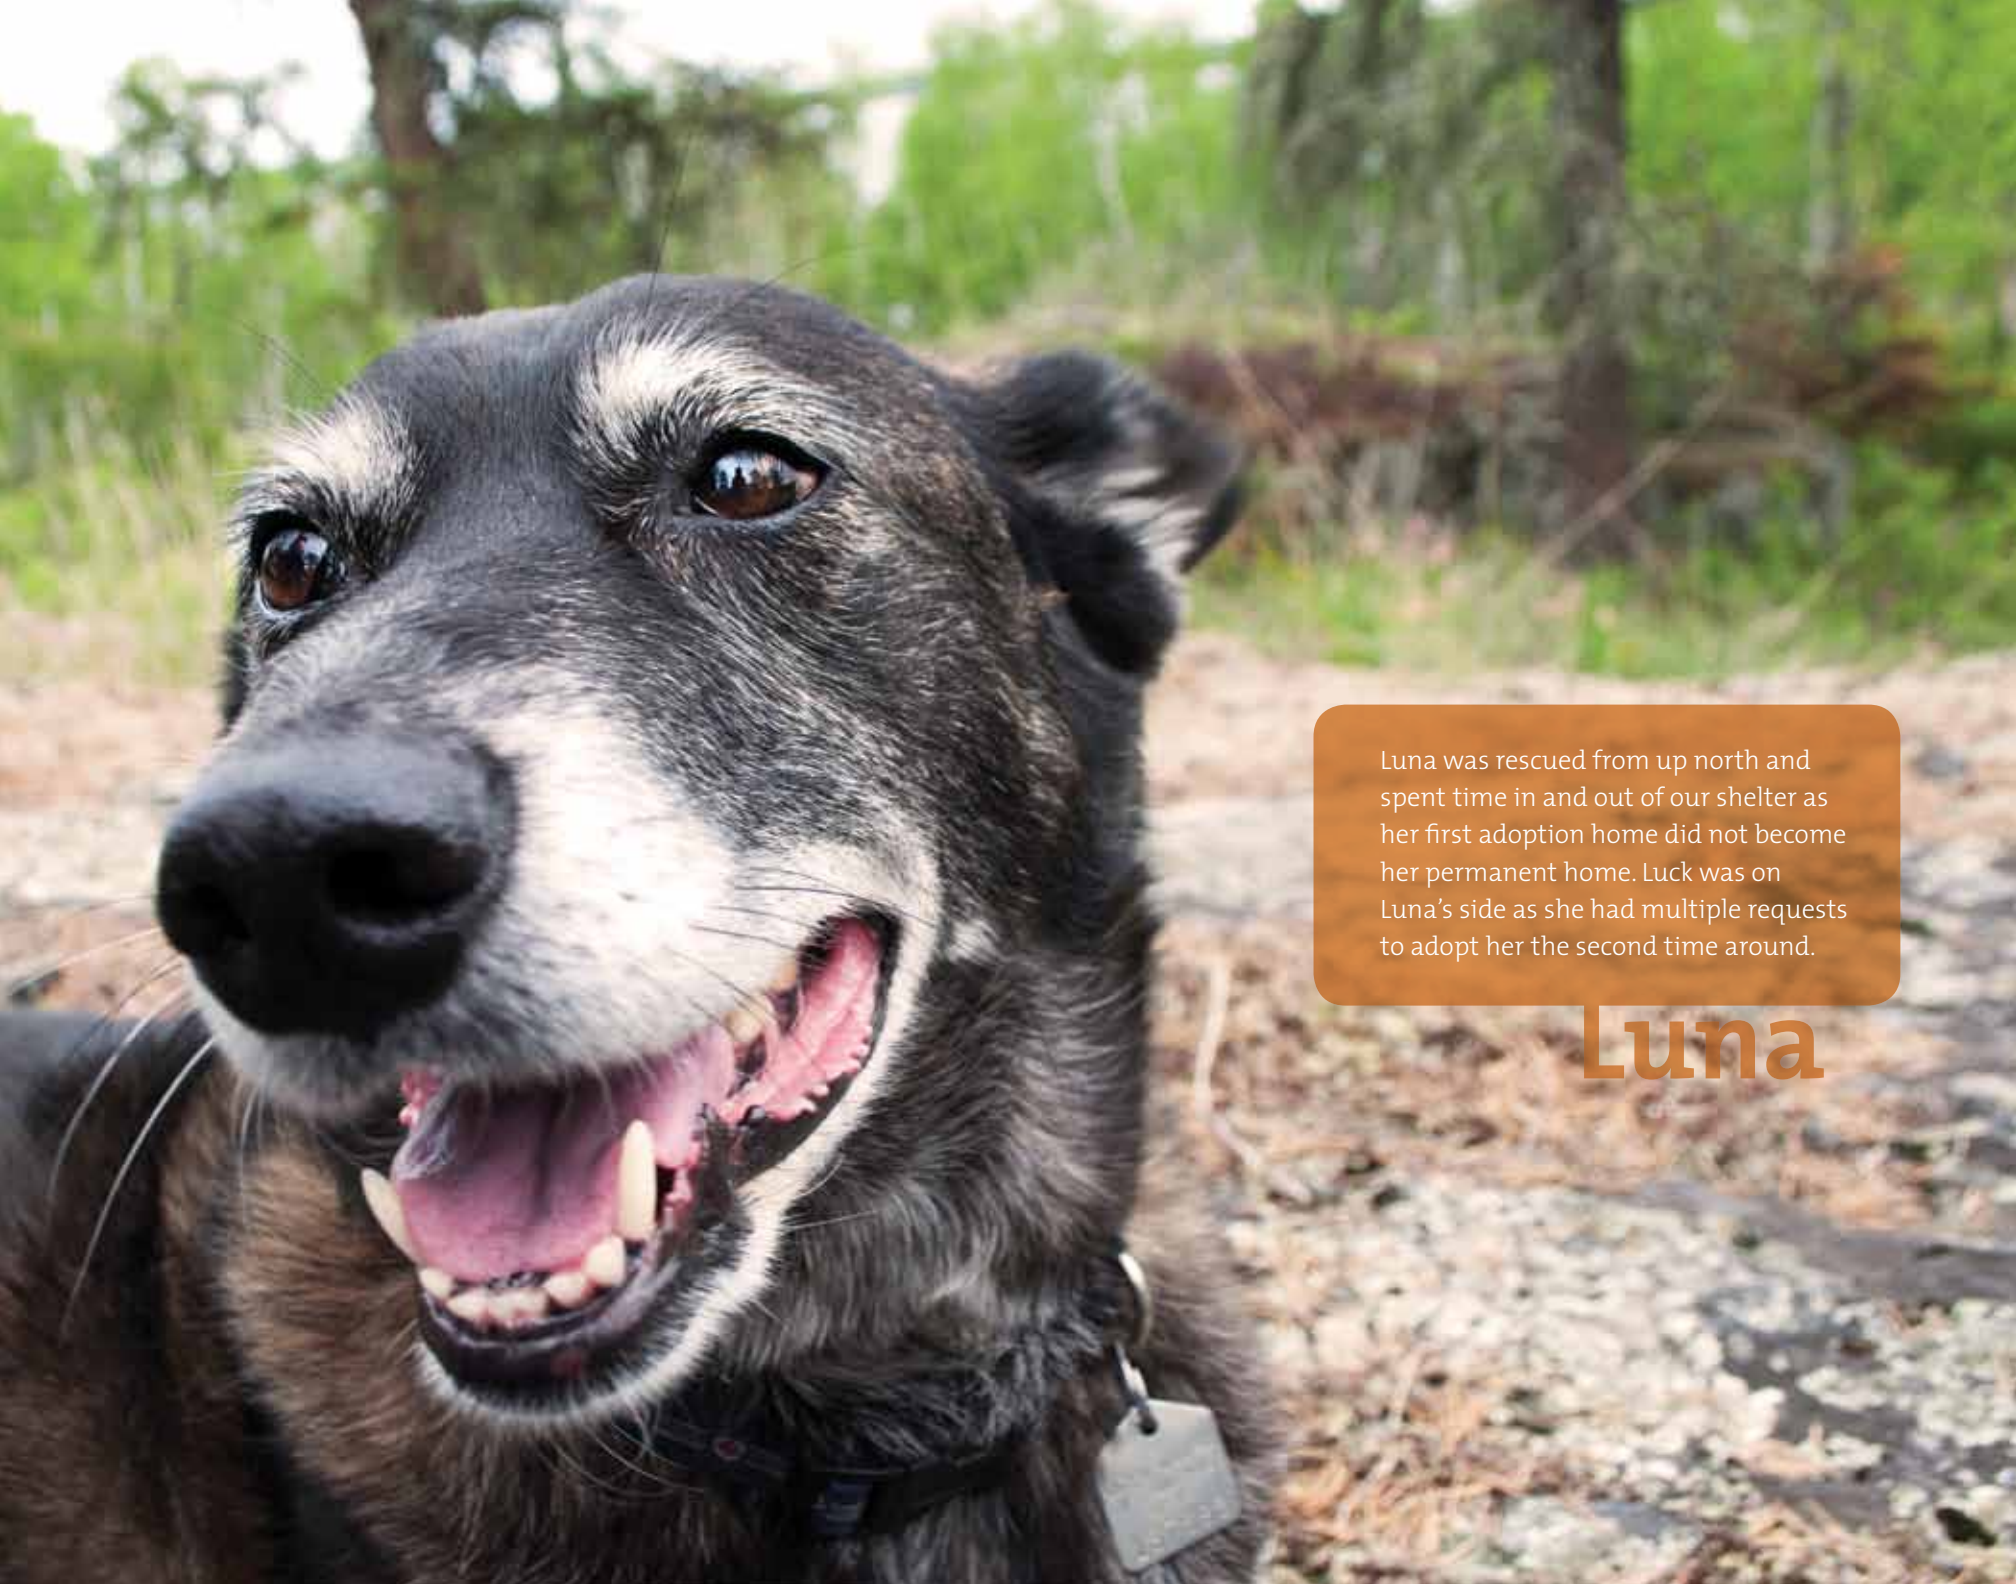

September 2013

This confident kitten turns dog lovers into cat lovers!
His quirky, energetic personality and need to be cuddled
has made him fit right into his adoptive family.

Luna was rescued from up north and spent time in and out of our shelter as her first adoption home did not become her permanent home. Luck was on Luna's side as she had multiple requests to adopt her the second time around.

Enjoying the great outdoors with her owners,

"A dog is the only thing on earth that will love you more than you love yourself."
— Josh Billings

A close-up photograph of a black cat's face. The cat has large, bright yellow eyes with black pupils. Its fur is black, and it has long, white whiskers. The background is blurred, showing some warm, brownish tones.

Ozzie

This nine month old stray spent almost two months waiting to be adopted. Ozzie was initially very wary of his surroundings but soon settled in and became tagged as a “personal assistant” by the behaviour staff.

November 2013

Adopted from one of our satellite locations, this playful cat found the perfect fit in a home that was “meant to be”.

“I love cats because I enjoy my home; and little by little, they become its visible soul.”

– Jean Cocteau

Bijou came to us as a result of a raid on a puppy mill outside of Winnipeg. She had been living in a crate her entire life with no room to move around. Bijou underwent major grooming to relieve her of three inch matts around her ears and body as well as treatment for fleas. She was one of the lucky ones.

Bijou

December 2013

Our cover girl, Bijou, found an adoring new Mom and Dad to pamper her with love and kindness. Lucky doggie!
