Make notes of things you like. Set about buying things so that you can make car ever so slightly different to everyone elses but still quite the same
Have a go in a different car that’s slightly better/faster. Immediately hate your car and go about selling it to purchase newfound model
Don’t find it very interesting. Close account, lose interest in cars as anything other than transportation devices. Eventually sell it to spotty goon who’s all excited
Get middle management job. Buy BMW/Mercedes/Audi. Go back onto forums previously used to tell everyone about how amazing the MPG is and how comfortable it is, also how slow previous car is in “real world use”.
Couple. Marry. Breed. Holidays. Sofas. Promotion. Soul dies. Grey. Retire. Grandkids. High blood pressure. Heart Attack. Can’t walk. Dead.
Design and construct experimental device allowing wormhole to be opened and for small mechanical device to be sent through time
Send audio recording device 500 years into the future. Receive it back shortly after with news of the progression of humanity on it
Live with weight of newfound knowledge. Try to decide whether to share news
Turn on TV. Watch “Britain’s Got Talent”. Decide that humans deserve nothing
Use skills to fashion rudimentary spacecraft. Leave Earth
Carve out new life on Blungarr 7. Indiginous lifeforms view you as a “God”
Fight opposition from rival tribe using new army. Take Chief's daughter as prize
Plan to create new hyper species by breeding with new bride. Dirty.
Bad luck - cold you brought with you kills everyone. Run out of food too.
Return to Earth. Properly fucked off now
No one even noticed you’d gone. Return to shit job. Get moved to different site miles away
